Fair Trade
Forum

The Scottish Fair Trade Forum's vision is of a world in which justice, equity and sustainable development are at the heart of trade structures recognising the dignity and rights of producers. The history of global trade is marked by slavery, injustice and exploitation. That history informs and shapes current trading relations and business and the economy more generally.

The Black Lives Matter movement has rightly drawn attention to past and current injustices globally. This focus allows all of us an opportunity to reflect on the past; to change the present; and to shape the future differently.

We take this opportunity to reflect on the past injustices in global trade including slavery and colonial exploitation. We recommit to campaign for fair trade structures now with work places and practices free from exploitation and discrimination. We do this in order to create a just world in the interests of all people and our shared planet.
